

Alix of Tomorrow Unveils Powerful New Single “Noise” — A Sonic Escape from Modern Chaos

Brussels, April 25, 2025 — Rising pop artist Alix of Tomorrow returns with her second single, "Noise" – an electrifying reflection on the overwhelming flood of information and the relentless rhythm of modern cities – available now on all major streaming platforms.

Building on the momentum of her debut, Alix of Tomorrow dives deeper into her signature fusion of experimental electropop and intimate storytelling with her second single "Noise". Driven by shimmering synths and intricate production, "Noise" offers a raw and moving reflection on the overwhelming flood of information and the relentless pace of contemporary life. Through the airy chorus and delicate vocal harmonies, Alix captures the universal longing to break free from constant stimulation and rediscover a quieter, more genuine existence.

"In a world where every moment is saturated with data and demands," Alix explains, "'Noise' is my emotional outcry — a call to step back, breathe, and remember who we are without all the distractions."

With "Noise," Alix of Tomorrow continues to carve out a distinct space for herself in the next wave of electropop artists, offering a fresh, thoughtful perspective that is both deeply personal and widely relatable. Fans can look forward to more releases later this year as she continues to expand her mesmerizing soundscape.

Alix of Tomorrow (AOT) is an emerging French singer-songwriter based in Brussels, Belgium, pushing the boundaries of pop music with a sound that is fearless, emotional, and forward-thinking. With roots in songwriting and a passion for sonic exploration, Alix crafts each track as a personal yet universal journey, inviting listeners into her ever-evolving universe. "Noise" follows her debut single "Butterfly" released in February 2025.
